BACCALAUREATE SERMON PREACHED

Rev. H. G. Stacy, Rector of St. Paul's
Episcopal Church, Addresses
High School Class

Exercises for Graduating Class of 53 Members
Held at High School Assembly Room
Sunday Evening

Rev. H. G. Stacy, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church, delivered the baccalaureate sermon Sunday evening at the assembly room of the high school, the graduating class, one of the largest in the history of the school, and their many relatives and friends being present.

The class entered in two files, marched down the room, counter-marched up the sides and then to their seats. They were led by Charles Scarlett and Miss Anna Ericson.

The rostrum was decorated with the American flag and with flowers and ferns. Seated on the stage were Supt. W. C. Cobb, Rev. H. G. Stacy, Rev. R. E. Cody, Rev. A. Sorenson and Principal R. R. Denison.

The high school orchestra played a selection. The invocation was given by Rev. R. E. Cody, pastor of the First Baptist church, an eloquent prayer in which the minister also remembered the six members of the class who have enlisted under the colors.

The high school sextette sang a "Slumber Song." The Scripture reading was by Rev. Cody. The girls chorus sang "One Pleading Hour," with Miss Lillian Nelson at the piano and Edwin Lee playing the violin obligato.

In his baccalaureate sermon Rev. Stacy said the graduation period marked an epoch in the life of the students. They had been preparing for many years for the event. Was it to be a career or a mission to which they were to devote their lives.

A career, said the speaker, is something very much self centered and concerns itself much with "I and mine." The difference between a career and a mission was one of emphasis. If your point of view is limited to a career you will benefit the world but little. A career was justified where its end lay in a mission.

What am I going to do? What mark shall I make in the world? These were questions confronting the graduate. If you have nothing in view you achieve nothing.

What is your object in life? asked the speaker. There is a design and life with God as the Master Craftsman. One needed a teacher. The art of life lay in right living. Every business or profession was the design to be worked out and only success was attained when such design conformed to the requirements of the Master Hand.

Carlyle, a master thinker, in private life was a failure. Julius Caesar was considered by historians to be one of the greatest men in history, but his private life was clouded. For masters of right living one might consult Washington or Lincoln, but they would humbly negative any such honor and admit their faults.

There was but one teacher, but one Master of the art of right living, and He was Christ. The real object of life was to live for the good of others, to do the greatest good to the greatest number. America can live through this crisis if every American took that to heart.

To work out their design in life, the graduates were counselled to use every faculty and talent, to develop themselves, to make their careers end in a mission to do good to others. On the loom of life one weaved out his destiny and nothing was more abiding than character. Wealth remained on earth when one died, but a noble character and its resultant good actions remained.

"Develop yourself for the good of others," was his parting injunction. The high school orchestra played "Myrtle and Roses." The benediction by Rev. A. Sorenson, pastor of the Norwegian-Danish Lutheran church, closed the services.

Demand for Immense Quantities of Wheat and Other Cereals

(By United Press)
Washington, May 28—The allies will require over 600,000,000 bushels of wheat at the next harvest to provide the minimum bread ration.

Herbert C. Hoover says he will also require 250,000,000 to 350,000,000 bushels of other cereals, the bulk of the bread burden to fall on America because the allies' crop will fall short millions of bushels. The wheat crop of France will drop down 55 per cent and the supplies for Russia, Bulgaria and Rumania are cut off. The supplies from Australia and India are off because of the long haul and the danger incident to transportation.

HOOPER WILL SEEK FACTS

Desires Information Before Checking Distilling and Brewing.

Washington, May 28—Herbert C. Hoover, chosen by President Wilson to become food administrator when the pending legislation is perfected, defined his attitude on the prohibition of foodstuffs in brewing and distilling. Mr. Hoover said it always must be borne in mind the proposed food administration is purely a war measure, designed and intended for no purpose except the mobilization of the country's food resources to the most efficient contribution to success in war, and the food administration will hold its eyes straight on its true objective and take no interest whatever in ethical questions involved in temperance or non-temperance, or any other question.

"If the problem of giving administrative action to the provisions in the Lever bill on brewing and distilling came up to me," Mr. Hoover said, "I should first wish to determine accurately and beyond all question the facts as to how much saving can be made in the consumption of cereals and the importance of this saving."

Train Bandit Sentenced.

La Crosse, Wis., May 28.—John Schaefer, charged with holding up and robbing a Chicago and Northwestern passenger train between La Crosse and Sparta on May 2, entered a plea of guilty in circuit court and was sentenced by Judge Higbee to fifteen years in state's prison at Waupun.

The Naval Reserve Quartette, one of the best ever heard in Brainerd, sang at the Empress Sunday night and stirred Brainerd patriotism to a high pitch. The boys sang in conjunction with "The Battle of Gettysburg" pictures. They will appear again tonight.

The quartet includes Theodore Klein first tenor, Kenneth Johnson second tenor, Ray Brennan first bass and Ray Dahlberg second bass. The mascot of the four is a bull dog Jack wearing a silk blanket on which is inscribed in gold letters "U. S. Navy."

Lieutenant C. S. Steffes explained the mission of the quartet and the success attained in boosting enlistments. In the little town of Grafton of the Dakotas of a few thousand population, 28 men were enlisted in one day.

Uncle Sam needed men now if he ever did. In his walk about town Lieutenant Steffes had seen many able bodied men between the ages of 17 and 35 who seemed eligible for service. Congress would soon increase the pay of the sailors. "We're in the war now," said Lieut. Steffes, "to make the enemy respect us, we need strength. The old flag has ever been victorious and it will be so again in this war. We must have men, however, to man the navy on the fighting line and to assist in conveying food supplies to the allies."

He praised the training stations and schools of the navy, the many opportunities offered, trades that can be learned, etc. The quartet was willing to give any information in their power and he would be glad to answer any questions. Conscription was a certainty and many in Brainerd would be glad to enlist before June 5.

The quartet sang "How's Every Little Thing in Dixie," "I Love the Whole U. S. A.," followed by the tenor solo of Theodore Klein, entitled, "Sunshine of Your Smile." He has a remarkably clear voice of high register.

The quartet then sang "Till Hide Away a Way Down in Iowa," "Don't Bite the Hand That's Feeding You." Ray Dahlberg sang a bass solo with quartet accompaniment entitled, "When the Bell in the Light House Rings Ding Dong." At the end, after numerous demands for an encore, came "Hooray For Wilson." The words are:

Hooray for Wilson!
He's a grand old man.
Hooray for Wilson!
For his country he does stand.
Isn't he a daisy,
He'll set the Kaiser crazy
One, two, three, four,
Let's pull for Hurray for Wilson!
He's a grand old man.
Lieutenant G. E. Ketterer is expected to appear with the quartet tonight.

Tearful Statesmen.

There was a time when English statesmen wept upon small provocation. Pepys makes frequent reference to this weakness, while the story of the long parliament as written by D'Ewes gives the impression that the legislators of that day were singularly prone to tears. They wept on the slightest provocation, and sometimes their excessive grief was so noisy that proceedings had to be stayed until the lachrymose lawmakers could compose themselves.

QUINN EXONERATED

Former Duluthian Not Blamed for Disastrous Ironton Collision, Auto and Motorcycle

John Quinn, formerly of Duluth, who was driving the automobile that struck the motorcycle ridden by Ray Wiggins and Louis Kaltenbach of Riverport, near the Hill Crest mine, Ironton, the collision causing the death of both motorcyclists, was exonerated of all blame as it developed the pair were riding on the wrong side of the road and at a rapid rate, when both vehicles attempted to turn out.

A head on collision followed and the men were thrown on the side of the road, one twenty and the other thirty feet from the point where the accident occurred. Ray Wiggins died at 6 the evening of the accident and Kaltenbach at 1 o'clock that night, neither regaining consciousness. An inquest was held and Mr. Quinn was exonerated from all blame for the accident. R. H. Land of Chicago was riding with Quinn.

Choose Your Six From Among the Leaders

There are automobile dealers selling Chandler Cars in a thousand cities and towns. Naturally, however, there are a great many towns in which there is no Chandler dealer. It is possible that the town where you do your trading, your home town, has no Chandler dealer. Still, if you choose your six from the two or three makes which may be represented there, the chances are you do yourself a serious injustice. Make your choice from a broader field.

The resident of a city when he buys his car chooses from among many. He compares many. He knows and talks with the owners of many. Why shouldn't you choose from many?

THOUSANDS WHO COMPARE ALL MAKES PREFER CHANDLER
If you want a high-grade six-cylinder car why should you accept the six which happens to come with the line of some low-priced "four" which finds ready sale all through the country just because it is cheap? You shouldn't. The buyer in the city choosing a high-grade six does not choose a six that comes with the line of cheap cars. He chooses a six from among the leading sixes.

And we want to emphasize this fact—which to you is absolutely vital in your consideration of the choice of a car—that in large communities where buyers have the choice of absolutely all automobiles manufactured in this country—not the choice of two or three lines, but the choice of all lines—the Chandler Car is a leader.

In all the big cities where men have the choice of all cars, the Chandler is a leader.

CHANDLER WINS FAVOR IN COUNTRY COMMUNITIES
And in hundreds of farming communities, in farming communities wherever introduced, the Chandler has sprung into immediate popularity. It has attained its popularity in country communities the same as in city communities for the same reasons of finer value for fair price.

Why deny yourself the opportunity of this greater value in a six, even though there may not be a Chandler dealer in the nearest village?

The six that may be leading in sales there, because of the mere fact of local representation, possibly commands no recognition whatever in markets where men have the choice of all makes.

ONE OF OUR DEALERS WILL DEMONSTRATE FOR YOU
And there is a Chandler dealer somewhere near you, so near to you at any rate that he would be glad to arrange for any kind of a demonstration you might desire. And near enough to you so that such incidental matters of service as you might require could be readily provided you.

The thing we ask you to do is to give yourself the advantage of knowing something about this great car which in four years has gone to an absolutely commanding position in the trade, and which this year twenty-five thousand buyers will pick as the six to be preferred above all sixes. We want you to know this car, and you owe it to yourself to know this car.

CHANDLER CLAIMS OF SUPERIORITY ARE EASY TO PROVE
You should know all about the Chandler because the Chandler offers intrinsic value greater than other sixes for which you are asked to pay much more, and immeasurably greater values than other sixes for which you are asked to pay only a little less. Greater value in materials, design, equipment, and, above all else, in the dependable and enduring service of its marvelous motor.

You may say it is easy to make such a claim for the Chandler. It is. And it is EASY TO PROVE SUCH A CLAIM FOR THE CHANDLER.

What other make of car, at anything like the Chandler price, offers you a motor which has been developed, refined and perfected throughout four years of conscientious manufacture and not subjected to radical changes or experimental devices? NONE.

What other make of car, at anything like the Chandler price, offers you such a proven mechanism as the whole Chandler chassis? NONE.

What other make of car, at anything like the Chandler price, offers you all those features characteristic of the highest priced, highest grade cars—Bosch high tension magneto; solid cast aluminum crank case, extending from frame to frame; big silent chains instead of noisy gears for driving the motor shaft; full floating and silent spiral bevel gear rear axle and light running annual ball bearings in transmission, differential and rear wheels? NONE.

What other make of car, at anything like the Chandler price, offers you more beautiful and comfortable bodies than the Chandler? NONE.

Chandler policy has always kept the Chandler price low. Relatively it is lower today, when so many prices have been inflated, than ever before.

We shall be glad to send you a Chandler catalogue and all possible information about the Chandler car.

NORMA TALMADGE
in "POPPY"
SELZNICK PICTURES

At the Best

Kept prisoner in a magnificent home in South Africa, a young woman wonders out into the garden on a moonlit, tropical night. A young man, stricken with jungle fever and half delirious, eludes his servants, and in his aimless roaming of the streets, finds his way into the retreat, the gate of which has been inadvertently left unlocked. The two fall in love at sight, and part after one ecstatic hour, not learning each other's names. The man is taken back to his bed, and for weeks is unconscious, in his terrific fight for life. When he recovers, the vision of the girl in the garden seems only part of his delirium. This is one of the several important situations in "Poppy," a big Selznick-Pictures production which will be the feature attraction at the Best theatre today and tomorrow.

The star of this photodrama is Miss Norma Talmadge, whose recent successes, "Panthea" and "The Law of Compensation," have placed her in the front rank of screen favorites. The story is taken from a play by Ben Teal and John P. Ritter, which is based upon the popular novel by Cynthia Stockley. It is directed by Edward Jose, who formerly lived in South Africa, and has given the scenes a strongly realistic flavor.

Miss Talmadge, as Poppy Destin, appears first as a poor, maltreated waif. She runs away from home and is befriended by Abinger, who later marries her, the ceremony being performed in French, and Poppy told that it is merely a formal adoption. Abinger keeps his secret until Poppy, reaching womanhood, demands that she be permitted to make outside acquaintances, as she is kept a prisoner in Abinger's home. She falls in love with another man, and then learns that she is the wife of Abinger. How she carries out her determination to make her own way in the world, and finally returns to face both men who have come into her life, and win her happiness, forms a fascinating and dramatic story. The scenes are laid in South Africa, and are unique and beautiful in the extreme.

TEACH CHILDREN TO SWAT THE FLY.

GIVE your children the fly swatter and teach them to use it. Teach them to shun flies as you teach them to run from automobiles. The little tiny silent flies are more dangerous. They are killing a great many more children than the great big, noisy automobiles. Besides, teach your children to look for the flies, as one or another may stealthily sneak into your carefully screened house. Give a prize of a penny a dozen for all dead flies, and teach the children not to touch them, as they are dirty and may be carrying disease.

Cleaning White Shoes.
With the approach of summer seasonable shoes become a matter of much consideration to many persons. If white buckskin shoes are worn it would be well to purchase at any drug store a white magnesia ball, then take a piece of cheesecloth, place the ball inside and rub one way until the shoe is covered with the powder. If possible let them stand overnight; then take a clean, stiff brush and rub lightly over the shoes. This will give a clean and neat appearance and will not make them look streaky or stiffen the shoes as liquid polish often does. If this is done before the shoes get too dirty and kept up it will enable you to wear your shoes two seasons instead of one.

A New Bag.
A bag to hold scraps of the children's cloths can be quickly made from a yard square of any desired material. Hem each of the four sides and sew a brass ring at each corner. Hang all four rings on a hook, lay the bag out flat, and you will see at once just what you want without any waste of time.

His Anxious Query.
Young Wife—I don't like that cooking school teacher at all. She has no patience nor consideration. She's actually cruel! Husband—Great snakes! She doesn't really make you eat the things, does she?

"Class History" and "Class Will" by Brainerd High School Students Read With Interest

Class Will
By QUINTIS BLACKBURN

We, the Seniors of the high school of Brainerd, Crow Wing county, Minnesota, of the U. S. of America, of same minds (although our under mates probably do not think so) do hereby make and declare our last will and testament, all previous ones being null and void. We appoint, as has been done of yore, R. R. Dennison and W. C. Cobb as executors of our estate.

To all the lower classes we bequeath our happy dispositions and our ability to smile and bluff our way through all difficulties.

We bequeath to the class desiring those qualities, our rare good humor, the fondness with which the boys of the class regard the girls and vice versa in most instances, and our regard for and total acquiescence in all of the rules and regulations which our illustrious faculty has been fit to impose upon us.

To the Juniors we are forced to leave the title of "Seniors of 1917-18" along with which come our assembly of great utility. If not beauty, our special privileges and our dignity, although we are obliged to fess that we have very little of the last, most of it being replaced by a spirit of democracy. We also leave to next year's Seniors an epidemic of numps fully as wide, or wider, in its field of victims as was ours; undisputed possession of the new dictionary, which they have found necessary to conceal at the expense of being able to refer to its interesting contents; and our ability to produce comedians, philosophers, all-round athletes, recruits for the U. S. army, navy and Red Cross; and others who will cause the world to take notice later on. We also leave to them a small silk flag as a reward for their patriotism in that they sent several of their members to the army.

To the high school we leave memorials which will be decided on later and recollections of our pleasing personalities.

To Mr. Swanson we leave one hundred cents for which he can probably account, and our permission that he "chew the rag" and domineer over lower classmen as much as ever, along with the hope that he will have saved enough to go to the next Senior play.

Among personal articles or characteristics left to fortunate, or otherwise, heirs are the following:

1. Ira Overly leaves his little Freshman friend in the tender keeping of Harry Somers, and his curious expressions of countenance, his loud, forced, mule-laugh, and his powers on the athletic floor and field and in debating and arguments to German Nelson.

2. Dutch Koop gives and bestows upon Florence Simmons the habit of having to run to school at nine A. M. on hearing the bell toll when several blocks away, and of then bursting in just in time. His skill at following in George Day's footsteps he leaves to the same person.

3. Lenord Anderson bequeaths to Clarence Relmstad his skill in stock judging, his superfluous aviridipols and jovial disposition.

4. Roy Reis is pleased to bestow upon Vernon Gorton his spontaneous flashes of mirth by which he can be identified in the dark or under any circumstances; also his ever-ready command of both the mother-tongue and that of the father-land (German), and his seemingly pugnacious but good-at-heart disposition.

5. Marie Gibson leaves only a picture of her great beauty, but all of her calm deliberation of mind and also her seat in the Senior room to Dan Clark, since the Juniors did not seem to be able to supply him with the last article.

6. Edna Thompson bequeaths to the same lucky Junior, i. e. Dan, her ability to refrain from acting the part of a bovine, her bashfulness, and her popularity.

7. Alfred Thompson, feeling that he has outgrown some of them, leaves to Henry Lagerquist his association with the three foot rule, his skill at fudge-making, which skill he inherited from previous Senior girls; his comic antics, and his loves of female society. To Dorothy Carmichael he leaves oceans of love and to Tollie Kiebler he leaves his ability to make high school in three years.

8. Edwin Lee bequeaths to Harold Opsahl his skill at the violin and training a pompador to obey his slightest nod, along with his being able to carry on many activities in addition to school routine.

9. Hilding Nylund leaves to Albert Alzant his work bench fully equipped with well-sharpened planes, bits, chisels and other tools in addition to much skill in reference to their use; and his ability as a cartoonist.

10. Marguerite Anderson gives and bequeaths his knowledge of Caesar's Gallic wars to Alice Johnstone. He, likewise, bequeaths to Dan Clark his voracious appetite for Yucatan and his ability and his generosity in bestowing it. 12. John Downie leaves his extensive ability to play star foot ball and basketball to Clifford Larson, his executive ability and skill as class cartoonist and comic illustrator to Rudolph Johnson, and his surplus gray-matter to the Freshman class.

13. Lenord Anderson leaves his place on the honor roll to Florence Simmons (may she always preserve it intact).

14. Helen Frost bequeaths her extensive knowledge of chemistry, her success at writing the class history and other publications, her daring spirit, her poetic and musical aspirations, which are of high rank, and her curls of recent date, to Ruth Pentin provided she becomes a Senior next year.

15. Stephen Nicholas cheerfully gives to Otto Hubbard duplicates of his melodious tenor voice, his wavy hair and his ability as editor of the "Barrows News."

16. Genieve Flanagan leaves her studious habits, copious knowledge, and silent disposition to Agnes Nelson.

17. Hazel Squires shifts the responsibility of refraining from talking during a period upon the frail shoulders of Alton Fox.

18. Charles Searlet leaves to Gerhart Flaata the distinction of being a hero, in a play at least, and as a result of this, causing more tears to be shed than have ever been exhumed at any one time in the history of Brainerd. To the same person he also bequeaths his masterful voice with which he attempts to talk as if he were saying something of much importance, his exalted position as president of our class, and his high scholastic record.

19. Arthur William Lyndon leaves his polished manners and popularity with everybody especially members of the fair sex, to Arden White; and his handsome features, pleasing personality and his hope of receiving the maximum pay of sixty-five dollars per month as army stenographer sometime at the end of the next forty years, to Arthur Reid.

20. Ethel Fredstrom bestows upon Ruth Veronica Alberta her hospitality in that through her efforts our sleigh-rides always end up at her abode.

21. Anna Ericsson leaves to Ruth White her small stature, rosy complexion, and cheerful and sunny disposition by which she converts the whole world into fond admirers. Her exhaustive knowledge of German is left to Georgia H. Frost.

22. William Evans bequeaths to Bob Clark the quality of being able to arouse waves of mirth among his fellow-students in English IV recitations, and his inseparable connection with the Y. M. C. A.

23. Lillian Irwin bequeaths to Clover Sabin her ability as an accomplished opera musical-sound emitter (singer).

24. Earl Golemboske leaves his ability to play the part of Charlie Chaplin and some of his loud ties, which he no longer need on account of being in the army, to Henry Nelson.

25. Lamonte Koop leaves his position as most competent and efficient goat-getter, and a guard room at Leavenworth to Orle Heber.

26. Gladys Peterson leaves her dignity to Millicent Russell.

27. Emma Zahn and Grace Drexler leave their knowledge of aldehydes, esters, alcohols, sugar and other carbon compounds and their ability as dancing girls to Ruth White and Hope Thabes.

28. The Normal girls leave their ability at teaching kindergarten and their angelic dispositions to the succeeding class of that department.

29. The Seniors also leave to the Freshmen the chance of winning the basketball championship and the power of having as many blowouts in the Sophomore year as we have had in the past.

30. The author leaves apologies for the blunders he has committed during his high school course.

31. Mabel Anderson bequeaths to Blanche Click her quiet and unobtrusive nature.

32. Henrietta Otterson bequeaths to Violet Murray her vocal aspirations and admiration for the normal room.

33. Evelyn Mray bequeaths her dark brown dreamy eyes to Venice Holst.

34. Mary Clark and Margaret Keough leave their musical voices to Violet Greger and Nydia Hargrove.

35. Etta Borders bequeaths her artistic ability to Frances Linn.

36. Clara Schmalz leaves her surplus stature to Albert Nelson.

To which we have this day set our hand and seal.

SENIOR CLASS OF 1917.

Class History

BY HELEN FROST

Only four years ago! It seems ages and ages when I think of it—and yet the years have passed all too quickly for me. We entered high school at the same time Mr. Denison did—I mean at the same time that he came here to be principal. I remember the first time we ever saw him. He was enrolling students for the year's work, and the minute we saw him, we all voted him a good scout. Afterwards, when we took charge of the assembly and prohibited talking, we rather reversed our decision, but when we got to know him—well, first impressions are best, you know.

We were an unusually brilliant Freshman class, the best one that ever entered high school. The only trouble is, we couldn't keep our class together. At least four of our crowd are married, one left school to become a milliner, one is now a teacher, some are attending other schools, and also, attracted by the merits of later classes have deserted our bunch and joined the ranks of the Juniors and Sophomores. None of us blame them for liking the high school too well to quit it in four years, but most of us cannot afford the time.

It was lots of fun being a Freshie. When I think of the awe and respectful and almost adoring look we bestowed upon the Seniors that year, it almost makes me weep to think how the Freshmen do change, as time goes on. Do you remember the day that Mr. Denison was saying something distasteful to the H. S. and Jack Pendergast got up and yelled, "Put him out! Put him out!" We all shivered in our boots and waited to see what would happen, but Mr. Denison calmly went on talking, and ignored the belligerent Senior.

One thing our class did shine in especially, and that was programs. The programs we gave, Freshmen though we were, out-rivalled even those of the Senior class. By the

Talkers! That reminds me of the time Mr. Denison started the onerous system of taking down names and keeping the talkers after school an hour. Then he made us promise never to talk again in the assembly room. After he made his long speech, I was the first in line and I had to promise first, (but I heard afterwards (Continued on page 5))

OF SPECIAL SIGNIFICANCE

Memorial Day will be of special significance to the people of the United States on this special occasion and the observance should be universal and everybody should join in making it a real dedicatory service, the people of Brainerd should join in making the occasion one to be remembered. In his proclamation to the people of Minnesota Gov. Burnquist says:

Let us on Memorial Day, May 30, 1917, set aside our daily duties to pay homage to all of those who participated in the great struggle to make our nation free in fact as well as in name.

"Let our citizens, on that day, gather for the purpose of commemorating the heroic deeds and the self-sacrifice of the brave men who made possible the perpetuity of our country and the preservation of liberty, justice and democracy.

"Let this day be devoted to a clear realization of our own opportunities for patriotic service in the present conflict for the elimination of autocracy and the extension of democratic principles.

"It is, therefore, urged that, in all patriotic addresses on said day and that from the pulpit on the Sunday preceding as well as on the Sunday following Memorial day, attention be called to the Liberty loan and to the possibility, in this connection, of serving our country.

"In no better way can we of today show our appreciation of what the heroes of the civil war have done than by putting forth, at this time, our every effort in defense of the nation they saved for us."

Aviators Somersault in Heavens--Men Die

BY WM. PHILLIP SIMMS

(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

With the British Armies Afield, May 19 (By Mail)—A fool, that is what "serious" airmen called the chap who did stunts with his machine before this war began. The aerial acrobat paradoxically was looked down upon. Today the whole game has changed and the more circus stunts a pilot can do the safer he is in the air. Unless a man can loop the loop, fly upside down, bump the bumps and do a general topsy-turvy, wine-jelly wobble while never missing a note with his machine-gun, his life is apt to be a short and slightly agitated one.

With the advent of long, bright summer days, battleplanes march across the sky, patrol the clouds and do post-duty there in just the same way as soldiers do on the ground. There are machines corresponding to infantry, which go in droves and attack or repel attacks. Others are like cavalry and do scouting. Still more are comparable to the artillery. Some are like tanks, some like armored motor-cars and some do sniping among the creamy thunderheads. But the pilot of each machine must know how to fly as human beings never flew before otherwise the cracker-box on which he sits at meal-time is sure to play the role of a vacant chair at some not very distant date.

From a gun-pit near Monchy-lez-Peres I have just witnessed some of the most terrific fighting of the war. Aside from the savage attacks and counterattacks by infantry throughout this region and an artillery activity thus far unsurpassed anywhere, the battle was just as tough as in the air as on the earth.

A fleet of 18 wide-winged bombers swept across the line high up, accompanied by light fighters darting about like hawks keeping hostile machines at a distance. Patrols guarded the British side of the line, sailing up and down, swerving and turning, ready for attack or defense, while air sentinels kept watch about the observation balloons lest out of the cloud-puffs should dart a destroyer-type German plane and put the sausage down. Now and then, as Prussian airmen attempted to force their way over to the English side to give their artillery the range on batteries and troops, fierce fighting developed in which machines were brought down crashing.

Between Monchy and Guemappe the German infantry suddenly appeared in the open coming from behind Velt Wood southeast of Monchy, and the enemy artillery increased their shell fire on this hill-top town until it was buried under white, yellow and black smoke. Shrapnel filled the air with their twin puffs of smoke, one white puff and one black, and, lest the British should throw in their reserves, a barrage of light and heavy explosives rained down on the slopes to the west.

Here British battleplanes got in some of their stunts, stunts which would have set a grandstand wild with mixed awe and delight. One pilot swooped down almost perpendicularly as though about to crash into the shattered roof-tops of smoking, seething Monchy, but, just as he seemed about to touch, he careened on the tip of one wing, turned at sickening speed to the right and disappeared into the smoke of battle, a few yards at most over the heads of the madly attacking Germans. For a few seconds his sudden appearance and the deadly work of his machine gun must have caused something akin to panic in the enemy ranks, then he shot up and away again at 130 miles an hour. Round and round he turned, swooping on the back stretch of every round until completely lost to view. He looped, twisted, wobbled and dived so that only a chance shot might touch him. It looked as if he had gone mad yet only this seeming madness made his escape from death possible. But for his aerial acrobatics he and his machine would have been riddled with bullets. As it was he came out successful and unharmed. The Germans were hurled back, smashed and demoralized and part of the glory of defeating them was his.

In the meantime a battle was being fought out in the clouds above the fields west of Wancourt, southwest of Monchy. Further to the north another German was hit at 15,000 feet and down he fluttered like a dead leaf, followed by the British aviator who had downed him. This he did to make sure the fall was real, not faked.

The most thrilling of all was the duel high above the gunpit where I sat and looked on. It was between two mere boys. For 20 minutes these two fought for position, sparred at an altitude of nearly three miles, neither being able to bring his machine gun to bear on the other. They looped, nose-dived, slide-slipped and did stunts, one after another but each held his own. Finally the German fled.

Young America Trap Shooting

(By George Peck)

The day is not far distant when nearly every trapshooting club in the country will have its quota of boy and girl shooters. New trapshooters of tender years are creeping into the ranks daily, and inquiries from all sides would indicate that an army of youngsters only needs the proper encouragement to get into this most fascinating and broadening of all sports.

At 15 years of age a boy or girl is sufficiently strong to handle a 12-gauge shotgun, but if the pupil intends to shoot from the 16-yard mark the gun should be of the regulation gauge. It should have the customary full straight comb, so that when the head is on the stock the line-up of rib and sight is normal.

This end attained, the pupil should be instructed to shoot with both eyes—not to aim as with a rifle, but to look along the barrel, or between the barrels; if it be a double gun, see the bird full if a straight-away, as the trigger is pressed; if an angle bird, the barrel should move slightly ahead and the trigger pressed, as the gun is still in motion.

If the gun is stopped as the trigger is pressed, the charge is apt to go behind the target. All of this, however comes instinctively with a little experience.

TREAT SEED POTATOES

The Prevalence of Scab on the High-Priced Seed Potatoes This Year Makes It Imperative That They Be Treated With Chemicals Before Planting.

[National Crop Improvement Service.] While the operation of treating is comparatively simple, close attention must be given to the direction and details followed absolutely. Your carelessness may mean ruin of the potatoes or danger to children or stock. Simply—Be Careful.

According to your conditions and equipment, the seed potatoes may be treated in crates, loose in barrels or in sacks. Treatment must be done before the potatoes are cut or sprouted. The commonest method is to mix one pint of formaldehyde (be sure it is full strength) with thirty gallons of water. Soak the seed stock in this solution for two hours, just before you are ready to start cutting. This solution may be re-used two or three times, if no time is lost between batches. One of the easiest ways is to place the solution in a barrel and place a sackful of potatoes in it at a time.

Corrosive sublimate is an excellent chemical to use, and will kill rhizotonia as well as scab, but it is a deadly poison and must be kept where children or stock will not get it. All vessels used with this material should be carefully cleaned afterwards. If you prefer this, use four ounces of corrosive sublimate to thirty gallons of water, and soak the potatoes for an hour and a half. The powdered chemical should first be dissolved in hot water and then added to the main solution. Do not use metal vessels. After treating, the potatoes should be promptly washed in clean water until all traces of the solution are gone, and they they should be carefully dried, the sooner the better.

It only takes a little time and very little money to treat all your seed potatoes by either method, and it pays big in larger yields of better potatoes, free from disease.

Over 160 Persons Killed and One Thousand Injured.

Chicago, May 28.—More than 160 persons were killed, more than 1,000 injured and millions of dollars worth of property destroyed by tornadoes which swept through Illinois and Indiana Saturday and parts of Tennessee, Arkansas, Kentucky, Alabama, Kansas, Missouri and Southern Illinois Sunday.

Reports indicate a large amount of farm implements, needed to produce the bumper crop desired this year, was ruined. Crop damage is said to be not heavy in grains. Property damage is estimated at $5,000,000.

The heaviest toll of life was taken at Mattoon, Ill., a city of 10,000 population in the broom corn country of Central Illinois, where fifty-four are known to be dead and 500 injured, with a property loss of $2,000,000.

Charleston, Ill., ten miles east of Mattoon, was also partly wrecked Saturday night, with a loss of thirty-eight lives and 150 injured. The property loss there is $1,000,000.

Kentucky Towns Suffer.

Dublin, Ky., suffered three dead and seventeen injured. Other Kentucky towns were hit also as were Sayre, Ala., and Tims Point and Clear Lake, Ark.

South Dyersburg, Tenn., was reported to have lost two killed and fifteen injured in a tornado that swept Dyer county. Near Blytheville, Ark., nine persons were reported killed and a dozen hurt.

Reports from Indiana show at least seven persons killed at Hebron, Kouts and other places and the death list may reach twenty. More than 200 were injured in the Indiana territory swept by the storm.

Smaller towns in Illinois lost a dozen dead Saturday, with two score injured, while in the southern point of Illinois wind storms Sunday killed a half dozen and injured a score.

STATE IS RENDERING AID

Takes Steps to Relieve Illinois Cyclone Sufferers.

Springfield, Ill., May 28.—Every energy of the state government was thrown into the work of rescue and relief at Mattoon, Charleston and other Illinois towns stricken by the cyclone.

Governor Lowden and Adjutant General Dickson conferred on measures of relief, after which General Dickson sent to Mattoon every cot and blanket available.

Virtually the entire working force of the state board of health offices here were sent to Mattoon, headed by Dr. C. St. Clair Drake, secretary of the board.

Hundred Reported Killed.

Birmingham, Ala., May 28.—According to the chief dispatcher of the Louisville and Nashville railway here 100 persons were killed in the tornado at Sayre, Ala., and six at Bradford. Many other towns in the western part of Jefferson county have suffered damage.

NEGRO KILLED BY OFFICER

Police Reserves Quell Race Riot in New York City.

New York, May 28.—A negro was shot and killed by a policeman in a race riot near Sixty-second street and Amsterdam avenue. Another was found with a fractured skull in a doorway.

The shooting followed a call for police reserves after trouble broke out between negroes and white residents of the neighborhood.

Several persons were seriously injured and many arrests were made. The clash occurred when a uniformed member of the Home Defense league attempted to arrest one of the negroes. A crowd quickly collected and a tree for all fight started.

Possible Fuel Famine Feared.

San Francisco, May 28.—Pacific coast and other Western cities are facing a possible fuel famine, according to a statement issued here by Southern Pacific railroad officials. The shortage applies to wood, coal and oil. Dearth of coal is due to shortage of labor in the coal mines, shortage of ships for coastwise and foreign coal and lack of equipment for rail transportation.

Street Car Strikes Auto.

Akron, O., May 28.—Two women and two children were killed and two other children mortally injured when their automobile was demolished by an Akron-Canton limited car two miles east of Akron.

ITALIANS SMASH AUSTRIAN LINES

Make Gains on Corso Plateau and Near Gorizia.

TAKE OVER 1,200 PRISONERS

Strongly Fortified Hill Southwest of Medeazza, Less Than Two Miles North of Duino, on the Coast, is Captured by General Cadorna.

London, May 28.—Smashing the Austrian lines on the Corso plateau and north of Gorizia the Italians have made additional important gains, besides capturing more than 1,200 prisoners and eleven guns.

In an assault between Jamiano and the coast the Italians carried a strongly fortified hill southwest of Medeazza, less than two miles north of Duino, on the coast.

The capture of Medeazza would be an important step toward the investment of Duino, with strong natural positions. A field battery of ten guns and 812 Austrians were captured by the Italians.

Near Plava, Cadorna's men carried by storm the heights at the head of the Pallion valley. By this they connected their lines on Mount Cucco, with those on Hill 353, both of which were taken early in the recent fighting.

Artillery Active Near Gorizia.

Four hundred prisoners were captured in this sector. Around Gorizia there was heavy artillery firing. At Castagnavizza, south of Favisia, the Italians were checked in an attempt to take the town.

On the front in France there has been a recrudescence of infantry activity, but not on a large scale. The British made gains in local attacks northwest of St. Quentin and near Fontaine-Lez-Croisilles, on the southern end of the Arras battlefield, and repulsed a German attack east of Loos, north of Arras.

On the Aisne and Champagne fronts both the Germans and French have been active. Around Teton, in Champagne, the German crown prince made three attacks and succeeded in penetrating the French line.

A counter attack by General Petain's troops, however, forced the Germans to retire again to their own lines.

NEW CENSORSHIP CLAUSE
House and Senate Conferees Agree on Provisions.

Washington, May 28.—Efforts of the administration to procure censorship legislation assumed a new form when senate and house conferees agreed on a new censorship section for the espionage bill.

As redrafted the conferees' section provides for prohibition by congress of the willful publication of military information useful to the enemy, with authority for the president to prescribe what information of the specific classes may be excepted.

Trial juries would be required to determine whether publication of such information were willful and whether actually beneficial to the enemy.

Profit in First-Class Seed Corn.

[National Crop Improvement Service.] I have been able to raise 30 bushels of choice seed corn on an acre seed plot. For this seed I received an average of $3.50 per bushel, which makes a return of $105 for this seed alone, in addition to 40 or 50-odd bushels left for feeding purposes.

I have black loam soil that has always been in the highest state of fertility. I apply a heavy coat of stable manure in the fall, plow the field early in the spring, disk four times and harrow until a firm seed bed is obtained. For seed, I used eighteen of the choicest, highest testing seed ears which I could secure.

On May 21st I planted, checking corn into hills forty-two inches each way. At this time I drilled in 450 pounds per acre of a high-grade fertilizer. The corn was given the very best of care, and as a result of this intensive cultivation and the balanced plant-food ration, it matured by the 15th of September, at which time I picked the seed corn and put it on drying racks in a heated drying house so as to be in first-class condition for buyers.—Heiron J. Black, Burlington, Wis.

IRONTON 1, BRAINERD 0

One of Fastest and Best Games Played on Local Diamond was the Sunday Game of Red Men

IRONTON GIVEN BIG SURPRISE

Gourd Given Admirable Support, Fast Double Play Flashed on Iron-ton in Fourth Inning

A large crowd Sunday afternoon witnessed one of the best and fastest games ever played on the local diamond, when Iron-ton beat the Red Men 1 to 0, quite a come-down from their announced figures of 17 to 0.

Iron-ton got its jump of one lead in the first inning when Crann pounded out a two-bagger, and was scored on Schmidt's two-bagger. After that the game resolved itself into almost air tight pitching and brilliant fielding on the part of both teams.

In the fourth Brainerd flashed a double play on Iron-ton which nearly took the pep out of the visitors. A hot grounder to Diedrick was fielded by Crann and whiffed to Calander on second, retiring Putnam and then relayed to Bielenberg on first, catching the flying Russ.

The Naval Reserve quartet was on the grounds and sang, "Don't Bite the Hand That's Feeding You."

Iron-ton visitors were plentiful, Al Victor claiming over 25 cars had made the trip. Brainerd plays at Iron-ton next Sunday and the local expect to win sure. Dr. I. C. Edwards will have more team practice, for that tells the story in any game. A large crowd of fans expect to make the trip and good weather will bring out a record attendance.

For Decoration Day afternoon the Red Men will play the Wells-Lamont Manufacturing Co. Minneapolis team said to be semi-professionals and capable of putting up a fast game. The game will be called for 3 in the afternoon and many range visitors are expected.

LOCAL COUNTY COMMISSION

Auxiliary of the State Organization of Public Commission of Safety to be Formed

AT BRAINERD SATURDAY, JUNE 2

Over 100 Delegates to Attend Meeting at Chamber of Commerce, Called by Director Wise

A meeting at which the Crow Wing County Public Safety commission will be officially launched, will be held at the Chamber of Commerce Saturday, June 2 at 2 p. m., and notices to delegates in every township in the county as well as cities and civic bodies, have been sent out today under the direction of R. R. Wise, director for Crow Wing county.

This will be the most important patriotic meeting thus far held in this locality, as all organizations "doing their bit" for the nation are requested by the Minnesota Commission of Public Safety of which the proposed organization is to be an auxiliary, to act through it and thus carry out the government's plan of systematic work to aid in the war with Germany.

It is expected that fully 100 delegates, made up of men and women representing townships, cities and civic organizations will meet at the Chamber and as soon as the permanent organization is perfected, the work of systematizing all activities in this county will be undertaken. Every person receiving notice of his or her appointment as a delegate is expected to be present Saturday at 2 p. m. as the occasion is vital and a response to the earnest call from the state organization.

DIAMOND DOPE AND OTHER SPORTS

Leslie Bush is coming to the front as a pitcher winning his games in fact he's the most reliable one on the staff of the Philadelphia Athletics. On May 25 Philadelphia won 10 to 6 from Detroit. The Athletics got 15 hits and made 4 errors. Daus and Stange were the opposing battery.

The state trap shooting tournament in Brainerd June 21, 22 and 23 is attracting wide interest and hundreds of the best shots in the country will be on the scene.

Motor boat racing at Lum park would prove attractive on the 4th of July. Brainerd has been very quiet about celebrating and Lum park will again offer the only recreation center for the day. No one else seems to be stirring to do anything.

The score as published of the Brainerd-Ironton game is by the official score keeper of the Brainerd club. In another score given the Dispatch, kept by Charles Gustafson, he credits Brainerd with three errors, one to Benda, two to Tanner. He gives Brainerd three hits, one each to Calander, Diedrick and Tanner. Iron-ton is accorded three errors, one each to Schmidt, Shelling-ton and Victor. Six hits are distributed two to Crann, two to Putnam, one to Schmit and one to Russ.

BRAINERD TEAM BEATS ST. MATHIAS

The "Has Been Never Wases," a Brainerd team of past and present champions of the baseball arena, defeated St. Mathias Sunday afternoon to the tune of 8 to 5. Roderick and Moxie Mahlum were the Brainerd battery. Velleite and Dugre appeared as battery for the St. Mathias nine.

Features of the game were the striking out of Bill Turcotte on five distinct occasions. The last time Mr. Turcotte came to bat three men rested on bases waiting for Bill to connect.

SPEEDWELLS WIN SUNDAY

The Speedwells of Brainerd defeated International Falls at International Falls Sunday by a score of 10 to 8. Lenau, the old heady Speedwell southpaw, pitched a whirlwind of a game, using his head all the time and wound up the game with two men on bases by fooling the second man up with a slow ball and striking out the last one.

Bailey, for International Falls, drove one over the fence and made several spectacular catches in center garden. Vivian, International Falls pitcher, is a redskin, and Wolf, pinch hitter batting for McCibbage in the ninth, is also an Indian.

The Brainerd Speedwells had a dandy trip and too much cannot be said about the excellent treatment received from players, management, fans and all. They were royally received and entertained and the International Falls bunch and fans were good losers. It was their opening game and they had the band out in force. International Falls is a good baseball town, and the crowd at the game was very large. The game was exciting as the score kept see-sawing to the finish.

International Falls plays Hibbing on Memorial Day.

EVERY WEED AN ENEMY

Every weed is an enemy of the "soldiers of the commissary" who are making gardens. All these troublesome vermin plants, that gain footholds in the garden, forage upon the plant food and water which should be available to build up food plants. They stunt some vegetables by stealing their sustenance and crowd out and shade others. From morning until night weeds that are allowed to grow in a garden work steadily against the interests of the gardener; and the longer they are left undisturbed the greater becomes their capacity for harm.

ATTENTION DRILL COMPANY

From now on through the summer drill night will be on Thursday instead of Tuesdays and Fridays as heretofore.

Drill will start promptly at 7:30. These changes have been made in the hopes that everyone can arrange to be out one night a week.

LIBERTY LOAN COMMITTEE MEET

The Liberty Loan Committee has been called to meet at the Chamber of Commerce at 8 o'clock this evening for the purpose of organization and to push systematically the sale of the bonds in Brainerd and get the town to buy its $200,000 quota.

BUILD A SILO

The World Faces a Shortage and a Silo is a Good Means of Conserving Food

The Northern Pacific railway company is cooperating with the state agricultural college in promoting and encouraging this good work, and this community is invited to join in the great movement for the conservation of our food supply and for better farm profits. Special silo tours of one day each have been planned for communities that express a desire for such a movement for encouraging the building and use of silos.

It is planned to carry on the work by means of automobiles, visiting several farms in each community on which silos are in use. The farm owner where a silo is located and where a meeting is held will be invited to act as general host to the visiting farmers during the thirty minutes or more that the touring party is at his farm. It is planned to visit from six to ten farms each day, holding a short but very lively meeting at each farm. The farm owner will be asked to give his views based on his own experience as to the value of the silo, what kind to build, how much it costs to fill, what benefits he gets, etc.

One, two or more specialists will accompany each tour and answer such questions as they can, and offer such suggestions as may be appropriate. It is intended to make each day a red letter day for each community.

It is expected that the local committees will see that all farmers in the locality are invited to ride in one of the automobiles, and that sufficient automobiles for all are provided. It is expected that dinner will be arranged for at such places as may be convenient, so that the least time may be lost.

It is not thought possible to reach with a full day's tour all the communities that might desire such a campaign. Those, therefore, will be selected that make the most prompt offer to co-operate to make the campaign in their communities a success. No tour will be scheduled except in such communities as extend a pledge of co-operation.

County agricultural agents, high school agriculturalists, Commercial clubs, banks, merchants, farmers and all business men are requested to form local committees to take charge of arrangements, and all communications addressed to D. E. Willard, development agent, Northern Pacific Railway Co., St. Paul, Minnesota, will receive prompt attention.

BRAZIL TAKES STEPS
LEADING TO WAR

Rio de Janeiro, May 28.—The committee on foreign relations in the Brazilian congress has drafted a measure recommending the cancellation of the decree of April 25, 1917, which declared the neutrality of Brazil in the war between Germany and the United States.

President Braz, under the bill, would be authorized to take necessary steps for the carrying out of this law and to put into practice the acts which result from the cessation of neutrality.

The Brazilian foreign minister presented to congress a message signed by President Braz in which it is stated that the sinking of Brazilian merchantmen by German submarines obliges the government to take measures of defense against the Teuton boats.

The utilization, but not confiscation, of German vessels interned in Brazilian seaports is suggested.

BREAKS PROMISE TO POPE

Deportations of Belgians to Germany Continue.

Havre, May 28.—The Belgian authorities made public a copy of an order served by the Germans in the city of Mons, as showing bad faith by the Germans in their announcement that deportations had been stopped at the request of Pope Benedict.

The order, dated April 15, requires Mons to furnish 600 young men at a German cavalry barracks before noon of the following day equipped with clothing, shoes and provisions. The city is notified that it must pay 300 marks for every man not furnished.

The Belgian authorities say indications are that deportations will be extended to women, as the Germans are taking a census which includes women and young girls as well as men.

WILL ENLIST HOUSEWIVES

Food Administrator Wants Conservation in the Home.

Washington, May 28.—Enlistment of the country's housewives into the service of the food administration to accomplish conservation in the home is one of the tasks to be undertaken by Herbert C. Hoover as food administrator.

The women will be recruited, Mr. Hoover announced, through the aid of state food councils, state officials, the Women's National Defense council and civic associations.

"It is the idea of the food administration," Mr. Hoover said, "to ask every woman who presides over a household to sign a written pledge to carry out the advice and instruction of the food administration as far as her circumstances permit."

EIGHT NEUTRAL
VESSELS SUNK

German Submarines Waging Ruthless Campaign.

ONE HUNDRED LIVES LOST

Two Large Spanish Steamers Are Destroyed and Many Persons Are Missing—Six Danish Fishing Boats Meet Same Fate and About Thirty Men Are Unaccounted For.

London, May 28.—Germany's campaign of ruthless submarine warfare has struck two neutral nations a hard blow, two Spanish steamers having been torpedoed, with a loss of probably 100 lives, and six Danish fishing boats being sunk off the Faroe Islands, Danish possessions. About thirty fishermen are missing.

The largest Spanish vessel sunk was the "militar" steamer "C. De Elzaguirre." Forty-eight passengers and eighty-five members of the crew are believed to have perished. Among the missing passengers is the Spanish consul at Colombo, Ceylon.

A Reuter's dispatch, the date and origin of which has not been made public, announced the sinking.

Marquis Prieto, premier of Spain, announced in Madrid the Spanish steamer Begona had been sunk. It was not announced whether there was loss of life.

The C. De Elzaguirre was a steamer of 4,400 tons. An official dispatch announces only twenty-two passengers have landed.

The Begona was of 2,862 tons. In its latest note to Germany protesting against the sinking of Spanish steamers Spain is said to have spoken plainly, and the German answer was an apology and the offer of reparation.

WAR CALENDAR IS JAMMED

Passage of First Food Bills Expected This Week.

Washington, May 28.—A variety of war legislation, new and nearing completion, comes before congress in this, the eighth week of its extraordinary session. Calendars of both bodies and their committees are replete with war bills, including food revenue, appropriation, commercial and other measures dealing with war conditions at home and abroad.

Passage of the first administration food measure providing for stimulation of production and a national food census is expected early in the week.

Both the senate and the house resumed consideration of the bill in virtually identical form.

PROCLAMATION IS ISSUED

Minnesota Governor Urges Observance of Registration Day.

St. Paul, May 28.—"June 5, registration day, will be a memorable day in our history, for our loyal citizens will respond to their country's call," says a proclamation issued by Governor Burnquist, urging that everywhere throughout the state exercises be held to impress on all the importance of the event.

"With ill will to no race, but with a desire to strike a blow at military autocracy, our citizens will, on that day, volunteer their services in behalf of as great and righteous a cause as any for which men have ever fought," the proclamation continues.

WOODEN SHIPS ARE NEEDED

Chairman Denham Replies to General Goethals.

Washington, May 28.—Replying to Major General Goethals' declaration that the shipping board's wooden ship program is hopeless Chairman Denman of the board issued a statement declaring that with the most successful steel building campaign possible, 1,000 wooden ships still will be needed.

Referring directly to General Goethals' speech Friday night he said: "We believe that the committees of congress and not a public dinner with the head of the steel trust are the places for the discussion of ship building."

SLAIN BY HER STEPFATHER

Murderer Commits Suicide After Killing Young Woman.

La Crosse, Wis., May 28.—William H. Wooden, fifty-one years old, called his stepdaughter, Mrs. Hazel Franzen, nineteen years old, from the supper table into a bedroom and killed her with a shot from a revolver. He then committed suicide by shooting himself, after swallowing an ounce of poison.

Wooden left his work in the factory and bought the revolver and poison when informed by a fellow worker that his stepdaughter secretly had married William Franzen.

Southern California Shaken.

Los Angeles, May 28.—A severe earthquake was experienced throughout Southern California. In the town of Brawley the quake rocked a school, where exercises were being held, so sharply that panic was narrowly averted.

Liberty Loan

What Owning a United States Government Bond Will Mean To YOU

TO EVERY man and woman in this country, your government offers today an opportunity to own a 3½ United States Government Bond, backed by all the resources of the richest nation in the world.

While we cannot all of us enlist in the active army, we can all of us enlist as financial volunteers. To the army at home, your government offers a solid, substantial business proposition.

Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo says: "The greatest immediate service the American people can render in this War for universal liberty throughout the world is to furnish the means for its vigorous prosecution. The Liberty Bond issue is the first step. I earnestly bespeak the co-operation of every citizen throughout the length and breadth of the land in this great service of patriotism."

In asking you to subscribe to the "Liberty Loan" your Government does not ask you to spend your money. Instead it holds out to you a splendid opportunity to save and to invest. Liberty Loan Bonds are backed by the total resources of the richest nation on earth—a nation whose yearly income alone is estimated at $50,000,000,000 or twenty-five times the present loan.

IN MULTIPLES OF $50.

Liberty Loan Bonds may be purchased in multiples of $50 bearing 3½ per cent interest payable semi-annually December 15th and June 15th. These bonds mature in 30 years and are redeemable in 15 years. They are exempt from all taxes except inheritance and estate, and may be registered in multiples of $100.

Should the Government before the end of the war issue any bonds at a higher rate of interest, the Liberty Loan Bonds become immediately convertible into higher rate bonds. Payments for Liberty Loan Bonds may be made 2 per cent on application, 18 per cent June 28, 1917, 20 per cent July 30, 1917, 30 per cent August 15, 1917, and 30 per cent August 30, 1917.

The last great government bond issue sold for par in 1898 and 110½ in 1900. So valuable were these bonds considered that the Secretary of the Treasury could secure only one-tenth of the issue when he offered redemption.

SCHOOL TEACHERS.

Liberty Loan Bonds are the safest investment in the world. They may be registered in denominations of $100 thus giving protection against loss or theft. The income comes to you automatically when registered. Practice the patriotism you teach your children. Buy a bond.

MARRIED MEN.

Liberty Bonds as safe as life insurance for your wife and children. Uncle Sam never goes out of business and age or health are no barrier to your holding his bonds. Liberty Bonds give your wife a fixed income, without any business complications to worry her. Should she need the actual cash, she can sell her bonds without difficulty.

MOTHERS.

Buy the baby a bond. Liberty Bonds have purposely been made in multiples of $50 so that you can take them without difficulty. They will give your baby his education or start him out in business. The four payment periods make it possible for your husband and you to figure ahead a few months and plan on this nest egg for your children. Give your baby his start in life today with Uncle Sam as his "backer."

YOUNG BUSINESS PEOPLE.

Liberty Bonds offer a safe, secure investment as a foundation for your business finance. Here your savings are protected and pay you interest. Get the saving habit now. Make Uncle Sam your banker.

EMPLOYERS.

Help your employees get ahead by loaning them the money to purchase Liberty Bonds. It will give them an added interest in the progress of your business to feel you are backing them. The commercial security of the world is at stake in this war. Do everything in your power to perform your immediate duty of financing it.

OLD PEOPLE.

Liberty Bonds will relieve you of all financial worry. They are as good as cash and you do not have to bother about renewing them. When registered, their income comes to you automatically.

It will make the disposition of your estate much more fair and simple, if you concentrate your property in Liberty Bonds.

TRUSTEES.

The business judgment of trustees will never be questioned if they invest their trust funds in Liberty Bonds.

The work of a trustee is greatly simplified by purchasing registered Liberty Bonds and receiving the income automatically for the beneficiary.

WIDOWS.

Widows unaccustomed to business affairs will find the simplest method of securing their income to be the purchase of Liberty Bonds. There is no danger of loss and the income comes to you with the minimum of trouble. Should you need a loan at any time, Liberty Bonds are the best security you can give.

ORGANIZATIONS.

Liberty Bonds provide safe disposition for the funds of organizations. They protect the funds and at the same time pay interest. There is never any question as to the business judgment of directors purchasing Liberty Bonds for their organization.

NEW AMERICANS.

Liberty Bonds offer new Americans an opportunity to show their patriotism, while at the same time keeping their money safely.

THOSE WHO HAVE ENLISTED.

Put your capital into Liberty Bonds for your family or mother now. Then you can be sure that while you are away your property is safe and is giving an income without complication to those at home.

SUBSCRIBE NOW.

President Wilson says: "This is the time for America to correct her unpardonable fault of wastefulness and extravagance." Liberty Loan Bonds are the way for her to do it. They mean more saving—more income—more business for every citizen in this country. Subscribe today through any bank, bond house, trust company, department store or post office.
